President's Message - Happy Birthday to Us?

Last week marked the 62nd birthday of our club, which we celebrated in quiet fashion at our regular luncheon. You could almost say that it passed unnoticed in some way, as we did not have a huge turn out for the 3rd Club Assembly. This brings me to want to make note of this, and remind us all of the long, proud history of our club.

Last week Uncle John made some stern and timely comments about our poor attendance record at the luncheon, and he is right. Why is this, and what can we do to get things back on track? These are questions we should consider carefully. Our birthday should be a time to proudly reflect on where our club is going, and what we should do to keep it's flame burning brightly. This is something we will be discussing at coming board meetings, but for now, I do encourage all members to make the time to come back and rejoice in who we are – one of Hong Kong's great Rotary Clubs.

SPOTLIGHT ON - 3rd Club Assembly

PE Chris took us through another summary of events and happenings from the past 3 months, and it seems like P William has yet again been very busy.

Highlights for January included the District Golf Tournament, service projects for the blind, including a day out with lunch, plus the Bowling for the Blind, and the District Life Master Sharing project.

February kicked off with the District Horse Racing Night, which P William and DGE Eric attended, the RAC Joint Vocational Seminar, and the Rookie Stars Hip Hop Dance Contest.

March was a very busy month. On the 5th there was the Elderly Service Visit with St James Settlement, the Ultramarathon, PETS 1, Intercity Meeting, the Golden Flower Micro Film Award and the Heep Hong Hong Play Centre visit. These were to name but a few of the events that P William had attended, as he has been here there and everywhere, including visits to other clubs, and PE Chris noted that he was feeling very nervous as to how he can follow in P William's footsteps next year!! If he is following DGE Eric around also, he'll be a busy boy.

Last week's Proceedings - 06 April 2016

This meeting was the 3rd Club Assembly and not a full house, with some members travelling. P William began by welcoming everyone, including guests from RAC Lingnan University President Titus, plus his colleagues IS Director Ms Gladys Chan and External VP Ms Alpha Chu. P William then asked PE Chris to introduce his guest, who was Ann Wong, Head of Marketing & Communications at Hong Kong Cancer Fund.

We had birthdays to celebrate this week too, not least of which was the birthday of our club, which coincided with the birthday of PE Chris, who invited P Titus of RAC LU to lead the birthday song. P William then read out his announcements, and SAA John Poon announced the Red Box takings of $900, before P William invited our RAC guests to give us a presentation of their own activities from the past months, which included an international service project in Cambodia. After this, it was time for PE Chris to commence with the 3rd Club Assembly presentation. During the various reports from different Directors however, Uncle John took to the microphone to once again voice his concerns about the poor attendance record of our club in recent years. A problem which does not seem to be going away and one which we seriously need to address. All in all, we continued and wrapped up by 2pm, gave a toast to RAC LU, RI and HKIE, before ending with our usual group photo.

Out & About

Happy Lunch

Friday April 8th was a very happy day. As well as being PE Chris's birthday, it was the day of our 3rd Happy Lunch, and a Rtn John Poon led a merry bunch including Director Kevin, Uncle John, and PE Chris, wife Flora and son Cameron. One of the Choi Jun students is studying photography and delighted his hosts with some beautiful framed photos as gifts.

PETS 2

Saturday April 9th was the day for the 2nd installment for PETS at IVY Chai Wan, and it was a very lively, interactive event, with great guest speakers, including Mr Pang Yiu-Kai, Chief Executive of Hong Kong Land, and a good friend of DGE Eric. The day also played host to the 'Serving Humanity Market Place', which gave the opportunity for the various leaders for next year's key District initiative projects to make their sell to the incoming Presidents to give support. PE Chris was presenting the Rookie Stars Dance Contest, looking for sponsors to train new school teams, and he dressed up for the part, complete with a sample dance demonstration to get his potential partners in the mood. That wasn't the only entertainment, with DGE Eric joining PDG David Harilela for some live and spirited singing at the start of the day liven up the audience first thing in the morning.

THE LAST LAUGH

A couple were on their honeymoon, lying in bed and just about ready to consummate their marriage, when the new bride says to the husband: "I have a confession to make - I'm not a virgin."

The husband replies, "That's no big thing in this day and age."

The wife continues, "Yea... I've been with one guy."

"Oh yeah? Who was the guy?"

"Tiger Woods."

"Tiger Woods the golfer?"

"Yeah."

"Well, he's rich, famous and handsome. I can see why you went to bed with him."

Like the husband and wife then make passionate love.

When they are done, the husband gets up and walks to the telephone.

"What are you doing?" asks the wife.

The husband says, "I'm hungry, I was going to call room service and get something to eat."

"Tiger wouldn't do that."

"Oh yeah? What would Tiger do?"

"He'd come back to bed and do it a second time."

The husband puts down the phone and goes back to bed to make love a second time.

When they finish, he gets up and goes over to the phone. "Now what are you doing?" she asks.

The husband says, "I'm still hungry so I was going to call room service to get something to eat."

"Tiger wouldn't do that."

"Oh yeah? What would Tiger do?"

"He'd come back to bed and do it again."

The guy slams down the phone, goes back to bed, and makes love one more time.

When they finish he's tired and beat. He drags himself over to the phone and starts to dial.

The wife asks, "Are you calling room service?"

"No! I'm calling Tiger Woods, to find out what the par is for this damn hole."
