- Certificate in ESG Investing, CFA Institute
- Certified Anti-Money Laundering Specialist (CAMS), The Association of Certified Anti-Money Laundering Specialists (ACAMS)
- Certified Fraud Examiner (CFE), The Association of Certified Fraud Examiners (ACFE)
- The Associate Qualification in Islamic Finance (AQIF), Islamic Banking & Finance Institute Malaysia (IBFIM)
- Forensic Accountant, Ministry of Human Resources and Social Security of the PRC

Rtn Mofiz covered the history, development, core principles, common financial products, as well as the opportunities and challenges of Islamic Finance and its relation to Hong Kong.

Islamic Finance traces its root back to Prophet Muhammad. But its real development started in the 1950's, when Islamic countries realized that they needed a financial system which is compatible to their principles and belief. The first Islamic bank was established in 1963 in Egypt. Soon, the riches from petroleum export fueled its internationalization. The Dubai Islamic Bank, established in 1975, marked its internationalization. By the 1990s, Islamic Finance is in major exchanges, and by the 2000s, Islamic IPOs and bonds were budding in Malaysia and Dubai.

In the global financial crisis in 2008, Islamic Finance had demonstrated resiliency and had attracted much attention. Today, it is a core part of our global finance, reaching 4 Trillion USD in assets in 2022 with a CAGR of over 10%.

Limitations and challenges do exist. Islamic Finance must follow the Qur'an and Hadith. Interest, risk taking and speculation are forbidden. Financial institutions can therefore only make profit from their share in operational profits, which basically limits engagement to longer term commitments. Halal investing principles also prohibit capital flow into alcohol, drugs, cigarettes, pornography, prostitution, gambling, pork, weapons or any interest-bearing financial products. Business with uncertainties are often difficult to obtain Islamic funding. Medicine and Insurance reduces risk in nature and is favored.

Corporate Social Responsibility is also encouraged. A few new financial products were created to replace interest-bearing financial activities. For example, installments for purchase has zero interest, and profits from the bank was made from buy-back policies. Rentals and contractual profit sharing also replaces traditional financing. In Takaful, which means Islamic insurance, irredeemable donations are used to compensate members of the insurance fund for their loss. Sukuk, the Islamic bond, is issued in the form of a financial certificate that represents a portion of ownership in a portfolio of eligible existing or future assets. Islamic cross border payments, or Hawala, is based on trust and no actual money moves across the borders.

According to research done by Pew Research Centre in 2020, the Islamic population is around 1.9 Billion, which is 25% of the world's population. It is projected to exceed the Christian population by 2070. Its risk averse, win-win and socially responsible nature is seen by many as the ideal investment platform, and is gaining support from many governments.

The nature of Islamic Finance however limits its access to the more lucrative opportunities and the Central Banks because of their risk taking or interest-bearing natures. Execution is also more complex and is more difficult to standardize and monitor. Governance is also less mature.

PP Bernard Lee gave the vote of thanks. PP Leo Yu announced the red box amount of HK$450.
